AZULE CEMENT TILES

HANDMADE QUALITY TILES
ETHNIC VINTAGE

Azule cement tiles are entirely handmade and handcrafted. It is a unique and authentic product, and therefore requires a slightly different treatment with respect to laying and maintenance than other types of tiles. The production of the cement tiles is done without heating, and the ingredients used are environmentally friendly and sustainable.

Slight deviations in colour, shape, and pattern are inherent to the production and the type of material. These slight deviations are to be regarded as normal. These characteristics give these tiles a special and unique character.
